County Seeking Proposals to Create Additional Rental Units for Vulnerable Residents

Bruce County, Ontario: Bruce County's Human Services department has launched a Request For Proposals (RFP) to seek additional rental units in the County. These additional rental units are intended to assist with housing vulnerable residents who are homeless.

Bruce County is inviting interested parties that could, with funding:

- develop and/or acquire new rental units;
- complete retrofits and upgrades to existing units; or
- sell a property to Bruce County that can be used for retrofit or upgrades to enable the creation of new rental units.

"The objective of our RFP is to seek immediate opportunities to create additional rental units designated specifically for vulnerable populations within the next year," said Christine MacDonald, Director of Human Services.

Warden Janice Jackson adds, "Bruce County is committed to planning, delivering, and advocating for responsive housing services that help individuals and families enhance their level of participation and quality of life in our communities. Bruce County strives to provide accessible housing services that remove barriers and create opportunities."
